

Dear friends,

Prof. SUDO Sueo is a famous academic on ASEAN international relations who evaluated and made Fukuda doctrine in 1978 famous as the turning point of post-WW2 relations between ASEAN and Japan in his book "The Fukuda Doctrine and ASEAN." Singapore: Institute of Southeast Asian Studies, 1992.

As a domestic research fellow this year, Prof. Sudo will have a lecture on "ASEAN's Role in Forging a New Regionalism in East Asia"

On June 17 (Fri.) 18:15-20:00

At the 1st conference room, 8th floor, GSID, Nagoya University

Sueo Sudo (Nanzan University)

Introduction

I Changing ASEAN Regionalism: Three Transitions

1 The End of the Vietnam War in 1975: The First Transition

--- Institutionalization (TAC, Secretariat, Economic Ministers' Meeting)

2 The End of the Cold War in 1989: The Second Transition

--- Toward an Economic Integration: AFTA

--- Toward Greater Cohesion: ASEAN 10

--- Toward Multilateral Security Cooperation: ARF

3 The 1997 Financial Crisis and the Third Transition

---The end of the ASEAN Way?

II Groping for ASEAN +3: Double-Edged Diplomacy?

1 From ASEAN +3 to East Asian Community

2 ASEAN Community (ASC, AEC, ASCC)

III ASEAN's Search for a New Regionalism in East Asia: Major Tasks

1 Growing division among the members

2 Limited regional schemes --- AFTA and ARF

3 Reinstitutionalization of the ASEAN Way

Conclusion

Profile

Sueo Sudo is Professor of the Faculty of Policy Studies at Nanzan University, where he also directs the Center for Asia-Pacific Studies. Prior to the current position, he was a fellow at the Chulalongkorn University in Thailand and at the Institute of Southeast Asian Studies in Singapore, and taught international relations at the University of Saga, Japan. He received his Ph. D. from the University of Michigan in world politics.

Main publications:

- (1) The Fukuda Doctrine and ASEAN. Singapore: Institute of Southeast Asian Studies, 1992.
- (2) The Structure of Southeast Asian International Relations. Keiso Shobo, 1996. (in Japanese)
- (3) International Relations of Japan and South East Asia. London: Routledge, 2002.
- (4) Evolution of ASEAN-Japan Relations. Singapore: Institute of Southeast Asian Studies. 2005.
- (5) "ASEAN at the Third Transition." Discussion Paper, Economic Research Center, School of Economics, Nagoya University. 2005.