

Symposium on Education for the Sustainable Development

Part of the Joint research seminar of International Education Research Forum and Education Research on “Third World”

Organized by Nagoya University

Date: Saturday 10 November 2018 at 13:30-16:00

Venue: Room 613 at Graduate School of International Development, Nagoya University, Nagoya, Japan

We invite globally most prominent researchers in the field of educational development and share their thoughts on the future modality of the educational development to emphasize the importance and impact of investing in the education for the sustainable development and identify gaps and challenges for greater collaboration among the education community and stakeholders.

Keynote Lectures

Dr. Keith Lewin

“Towards 2030: The Challenges of Sustainable Educational Development”

Dr. Angela W. Little

“SDG4, Learning Outcomes and longitudinal studies”

Prof. Badrakh Jadamba (Collaborated with Dr. Guruuchin Tsogzolmaa )

“An analyzing for methodology of the own ESD”

Dr. Keith Lewin is Emeritus Professor of International Development and Education at the University of Sussex. He was formerly the Director of the DFID funded Consortium for Research on Educational Access, Transitions and Equity (CREATE) and was Director of the Centre for International Education at Sussex for 17 years. He has worked on education and development across Africa and Asia over the last 45 years and is a Fellow of the Academy of Social Sciences. His books include “Educational Access, Equity and Development: Planning to Make Rights Realities” International Institute for Educational Planning, UNESCO, Paris, 2015.

Dr. Angela W. Little is Professor Emerita at UCL Institute of Education, the University of London, where she was Professor for 24 years. She was previously a Fellow of the Institute of Development Studies at the University of Sussex. Throughout her career she has combined academic, professional and practical work, including collaboration with many bi-lateral and multi-national agencies, and with a wide range of national education ministries. One of her recent books is “Globalisation, employment and education in Sri Lanka: opportunity and division” (2013 and 2016). www.angelawlittle.net

Prof. Badrakh Jadamba is Professor and Head of Educational Fundamental Research, Educational Studies School, Mongolian National University of Education The research field of Dr. Badrakh Jadamba is Education for Sustainable Development, Quantum studies of Education, Quantum Psychology, Action Research, Lesson study. The recent publications include, Educating through Action, Ulaanbaatar, 2017, Quantum Action Research, Ulaanbaatar, 2016, Living Science, Ulaanbaatar, 2010, “Action is creator of the all” International Conference on Education research Innovation Development.2015, p.40-49.